

WATCHERS OF THE BUSY BEE

Men Who Cultivate the Honey Distilling Insect Meet at Lincoln.

PROF. BRUNER TELLS OF NEBRASKA SORTS

Two Hundred Varieties of Forty-Three Different Sorts of Bees—Individual Habits Described in Detail.

LINCOLN, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The Twenty-eighth annual convention of the North American Beekeepers' association was held at Lincoln today at 10:15 o'clock in the State University chapel, by President Root of Medina, O. Twenty-eight delegates responded to roll call. A piano solo by Master Johnnie Heath, aged 12, son of H. E. Heath of Lincoln, was followed by the invocation of the divine blessing. The convention then got down to regular program business and listened first to a paper by Hon. E. Whitcomb of Friend, Neb., whose subject was "Importance of Watering in the Apiary."

The central idea conveyed was that bees need drinking water as freely and regularly as cattle or horses, birds, insects or beasts. He also described at length some of the most modern and useful appliances for watering the little honey-makers, among them, the simplest of devices—the inverted fruit jar.

Prof. Lawrence Bruner followed with an intensely interesting paper on "Wild Bees of Nebraska." The professor lectured for more than an hour, showing slides of different groups of bees, and describing their length and with much clearness and lack of scientific verbiage, the 200 varieties of wild bees of our state, and their forty-three different groups or genera. He directed special attention to the genus Colletes, Andrena and Halictus, saying of the first named genus that they were the most common of all the bees that visit the flowers, and that they were the most useful to the farmer, as they were the only ones that would visit the clover and alfalfa plants, and that they were the only ones that would visit the clover and alfalfa plants, and that they were the only ones that would visit the clover and alfalfa plants.

FINISH UP THE ELECTIONS

Degree of Honor Grand Lodge Clears Up Business Rapidly.

CHANGE IN BENEFICIARY CERTIFICATES

To Be Issued Hereafter for $500, $1,000 and $2,000 at the Option of the Member—Change the Minimum Age of Members.

A large mass of work was accomplished at yesterday's session of the lodge of the Degree of Honor. It was almost 1 o'clock before the lodge adjourned for lunch and members, after viewing the work of the morning hours, declared the session one of the most important and interesting in the history of the order.

One of the first things taken up yesterday morning was the completion of the list of grand officers. The elections resulted in these selections: Grand receiver, Mrs. Owens, Grand Island; grand usher, Miss Fannie Meyer, Neligh; grand inside watchman, Mrs. Addie Winkelman, Sidney; grand outside watchman, Mrs. R. E. Marston, South Omaha; grand trustee, Mrs. D. O. Hewitt, Havelock; grand representative to the superior lodge, with pay, Mrs. J. C. Graham, South Omaha; grand representative, without pay, W. S. Houseworth, Lincoln.

An interesting question school, lasting for over an hour and a half, was conducted by Grand Master J. G. Tate of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, who occupies the position of past grand chief in the degree of honor. Members of the order piled him with knotty questions on doubtful or disputed points of law, and applicable to the governance of the order, all of which he undertook to answer.

The presentation of grand chief badges to Mrs. Adella Harding of Hebron was a unanimous vote. It was decided to offer to issue beneficial certificates of $500, $1,000 and $2,000 instead of limiting them to $1,000 as has heretofore been the rule. It was also decided to allow the taking out of insurance anywhere from $500 to $2,000, instead of confining it to $1,000.

At the afternoon session the greater portion of the time was taken up in routine business in connection with the auditing of the semi-annual report of the lodge. Mrs. Adella Harding of Hebron was elected third representative to the superior lodge by a unanimous vote.

new and interesting specialties are interspersed throughout the action of the play which, while not teaching any particular moral, is promised to be thoroughly amusing.

Katie Emmett and "The Walls of New York" are coming to town. This announcement should please the lovers of melodrama. There will be thrilling escapes, sensational claxams and scenery galore. The success of Miss Katie Emmett's well known play, "The Walls of New York," has been a great success in the country that deal with life in the great metropolis, but these could not be repeated in the city of New York. It is necessary to extend the virtues of America's foremost comedians, as he is known to all, and those who have never seen the play of Washington Irving's idyl as he alone can present it will no doubt avail themselves of the coming opportunity. His company is said to be extremely large and well balanced. During the engagement "The Lady of Lyons," "Romeo and Juliet" and "A Soldier of Fortune" will also be presented.

Red Willow County District Court. COCKROCK, Neb., Oct. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The first session of district court for Red Willow county since the removal of the county seat to Cockrook, opened here today, with Hon. G. W. Norris on the bench. So much time has intervened since the last term of court that the docket is uncommonly large. Besides over 200 civil actions, there are about twenty-five criminal cases, a murder trial being on the list. Court will continue over next week.

During the three-night engagement at the Creighton, opening Thursday, October 15, Otis Skinner will give his many admirers in this city a taste of his "Hamlet." His company is said to be extremely large and well balanced. During the engagement "The Lady of Lyons," "Romeo and Juliet" and "A Soldier of Fortune" will also be presented.
